Bert Sweet, Former T.F. Mayor, Dies

Bert A. Sweet, sr., 73, 500 Blue Lakes boulevard, former Twin Falls mayor, died at 3:45 a.m. Saturday in Twin Falls Clinic hospital. Sweet was born Oct. 10, 1891, in Viola, Mo., and attended Missouri public school and business college. He operated a general store before moving to Idaho in 1914. Mr. Sweet then operated a sewing machine company for six years and in 1920 became owner of the Bert A. Sweet and Sons furniture store. He married Hazel Hillman on Nov. 10, 1912, in Springfield, Mo. He served as mayor of the city of Twin Falls from 1943 to 1946, served on the county fair board and was treasurer and director of Reliance Credit corporation. During World War II he served on the OPA ration board. He was past president of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club and also past director of Blue Lakes Country club. He was a member of the First Baptist church, Masonic lodge No. 45 AF and AM, Royal Arch Masons, Twin Falls council No. 7 Royal Select Masters, The Elks, Kiwanis, Shrine temple, Boise, and the Grand Commandery Knights Templars of Idaho. He also was past-patron of Order of Eastern Star No. 20. He had been written up in "Who's Who in the West." Survivors in addition to his widow, include two sons, Bert A. Sweet, jr., Twin Falls, and Richard C. Sweet, Salem, Ore.; a daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Jeppesen, Boise; a son, C. E. Sweet, Twin Falls; and four sisters, Mrs. J. H. Harrington, Twin Falls; Mrs. J. J. Byer, Murtaugh, and Mrs. Zola Gish and Mrs. Charles Parrott, both from Sacramento, Calif.

"As a Republican I wish you well," he was pictured as trying to avoid campaign endorsements. McKay said of the senator's speech, which called for action to reverse the supreme court school prayer decision and criticized the Democrats "I have read it. It is a good speech. Goldwater flew into Salt Lake City after denouncing Johnson in the Pacific Northwest as a "power-hungry, prideful man." He said the president is offering "a shopping list" of promised benefits in an effort to get votes. The GOP candidate campaigned during the day in Washington, Oregon and Utah—which have a total of 10 electoral votes and which were vice president Nixon in 1960.

Asked by GOP senatorial candidate Ernest L. Wilkinson what "advice or encouragement" he had for Goldwater, McKay told the small group who met with him in his hotel suite across the street from the Mormon temple and tabernacle: "I wish him success and to stand true to his principles, which I know he has done." Goldwater won a one-minute ovation from the 8,000 persons who filled the tabernacle to overflowing while several thousand others waited outside the open doorway. He drew applause 14 times and strengthened his prepared text by saying, "I challenge congress" to pass the proposed school prayer constitutional amendment.

The senator added that "the time has surely come" for congress to rectify the supreme court decision and called for passage of the amendment for submission to the states.

2 Men Have Hearing for Area Robbery

BURLEY, Oct. 10—Two Pittsburg, Pa., men were bound over to district court on charges of armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting of Mrs. Norma Newcomb, 40, in a Burley motel holdup. Mrs. Newcomb, in a white car, was driving as a witness for the preliminary hearing Friday morning, which was closed to the public.

The two men, Robert W. Mueller, 23, and David J. Cypher, 25, were arrested Aug. 20 in Pittsburg and were returned here to stand trial. Charles Shaddock, owner of the Parish motel where the robbery and shooting occurred, also was a witness.

The men are still being held in the county jail. It is a $10,000 cash bond or a $20,000 property bond.

Richard K. Smith is the attorney for the state and James A. Amest, attorney for the defense, requested the trial be closed to the public.

2 Americans Are Named by Pope

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Pope Paul VI has appointed nine international scientists to the Pontifical Academy of Science. It was announced today.

The two Americans are Prof. Velkko A. Holtsmark, director of the geology institute of the Ohio State university, Columbus, and William Wilson Morgan, an astronomy professor and director of Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis.

Speeches were made to 20 Twin Falls county organizations by the Committee of 25 speakers bureau during September to explain the proposed community college district for the county, it was reported Saturday. Twenty-seven additional speeches are scheduled during October, Jack Shaw, chairman of the Committee of 25, reports, and he estimated conservatively that the community college district story will have been presented personally to 3,500 county residents when the speaking campaign is concluded.

Vital necessity for action to expand educational facilities in this area was stressed by Shaw. "There are more than 600 junior colleges or two-year colleges in the United States," Shaw pointed out. "Registration in these junior colleges runs as high as 24,548 in Chicago City Junior college, and 22,232 in Long Beach (Calif.) City college," he added. "Idaho has only Boise Junior college, North Idaho Junior college and Ricks college in this category, and the total registration in the state is 10,000."

He also noted that nationwide statistics show that this is the year the postwar baby boom begins to be felt seriously. The number of teenagers celebrating their 17th birthday in 1964 is 3,700,000, a fantastic one million more over the 1963 crop. These children were born in 1947, when there were only 43 million Americans aged 17 and under. Today there are 70 million.

Each new crop of 17-year-olds will be larger than the last, totaling about 10 million in 1970. Over the next quarter of a century, Shaw pointed out, statisticians say the number of women in their peak childbearing years will be doubled. Despite a decline in the birth rate after 1947, they assert, this broader population base inevitably will mean a repetition of the baby boom.

The population reference bureau estimates that 45 million new babies will be arriving annually by 1980. All this, Shaw declares, shows that there is no time to lose in planning to take care of the needs for expanded education facilities.

1,000 to Attend IEA Meet in T. F.

"Challenging Traditional Teaching—To Raise the Level of Literacy by Teaching More Modern Concepts in Various Fields," is the theme set for the annual district Idaho Education association meeting which will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, in the Twin Falls high school gymnasium. Mrs. Helen J. Dietz, Kimberly, president, will conduct the session which is expected to see about 1,000 educators from nine south central Idaho counties. Ivan A. Booker, director of National Education association membership division, Arlington, Va., will give the first major address following the registration, welcome by Elton Kroll, chairman, Twin Falls city commission, treasurer's report, and nominating committee report.

The president's Idaho appearance was announced only Friday. But Burke said an extensive effort would be made to turn out a large crowd. He said caravans already were being organized to bring Johnson supporters from throughout Idaho and eastern Oregon. Eastern Idaho Democrats said they are planning a special train to Boise. Several cars will be added to train No. 17 leaving Pocatello at 10:30 a.m. Monday. Another train will get them back to Pocatello at 3:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Boise Visit Planned by President

BOISE, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Idaho Democrats announced today President Lyndon B. Johnson will spend an hour at the Boise air terminal when he brings his campaign to the Gem state Monday night. Boise attorney Carl P. Burke, Idaho chairman for Johnson-Humphrey, said the President will deliver one of the major speeches of a day's campaign swing through Rocky Mountain states at the Boise terminal starting at 9 p.m. The announcement ruled out the state-house steps as the site for the speech. The President's opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater spoke at the state capitol early in September.

The Idaho campaign chairman said free buses will be provided to haul to the airport Ada county residents who have no other transportation. Planning to attend to greet the president will be Idaho's two Democratic congressmen, Burt Harding and Compton I. White, Jr. Burke said an invitation had been extended to Gov. Robert E. Smylie, a Republican.

President Harry S. Truman was the last chief executive to visit Idaho. He came during his full term.

Democrats are hopeful the president's visit will help them make their case for the state for the first time since 1948.

President Is Resting After Latest Trip

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y., Oct. 10 (UPI)—President Johnson stayed off the campaign trail and rested today before invading Sen. Barry Goldwater's hometown of Phoenix, Ariz., to begin a 10-hour swing through seven Western states. The President and his wife, Lady Bird, relaxed at their LBJ ranch home after a couple of weeks' trips that ended together Friday night in New Orleans.

Johnson faced another intense week of campaigning, including a series of appearances in Pennsylvania and New York—in his drive for a "decisive" triumph over his Republican rival.

The chief executive was reported to be planning near-continuous campaign sorties in the 23 days remaining before Americans go to the polls on Nov. 3.

Paper Clip Is Fatal for T.F. Girl, 2

Cindy Noel Selfres, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Selfres, 947 Eastland drive, died at Magic Valley Memorial hospital at 7:40 p.m. Friday. According to the attending physician, her death was caused from choking on a paper clip she picked up in her home.

She was born Dec. 31, 1962, in Boise.

Surviving, besides her parents, are two brothers, James Selfres and Marvin Selfres, triplet brothers and sisters, Kevin Selfres, Marsha Selfres and Patricia Selfres, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, all Twin Falls.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at White mortuary chapel with the Rev. Donald Hoffman officiating. Final rites will be held in Sunset Memorial park.

Wind Caused Murtaugh Roof Mishap

Investigation of the accident at the new Murtaugh school building in which five men were injured Sept. 30 has determined that a gust of wind caused exposed roof trusses to topple, causing the mishap.

The report was revealed Saturday by Cornell, Howland, Haynes & Murtaugh, independent Boise engineering firm that was asked to determine the cause. "There is nothing faulty either in the design of the building or in the design and fabrication of the trusses," the engineering firm reported.

It had been reported that some residents of the Murtaugh area had been concerned that the accident might have been the fault of the truss design or fabrication.

The structural adequacy of the design and construction have been approved by the International Conference of Building Officials, it was pointed out.

Final Plans Are Made for C of C Event
Plans are being completed for the annual Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held Friday evening at the Twin Falls high school cafeteria. Featured guest at the yearly affair will be astronaut Roger Chaffee, national aeronautics and space administration, Houston, Tex. Chaffee is presently working on communications, deep space instrumentation facility, in the Apollo branch of the astronaut office. He will arrive in Boise Thursday night with Fred Asellin, officer of public affairs branch of the NASA and will be transported to Twin Falls by car that night.

An exhibit opening at 9 a.m. Friday at the high school will show one-quarter scale models of the Gemini and Apollo command spacecrafts, the lunar excursion module which will make the actual landing on the moon and a full-size space suit. The display will be on loan from the NASA and will be dismantled at 10 p.m. Friday.

Also at the banquet the 1964-65 Chamber of Commerce board members will be introduced and printed reports of organization business will be presented. Chamber members and all interested persons of the community can obtain tickets to the event at the local Chamber of Commerce office.

Improved Water Supply Is Needed Before T. F. Can Consider Growth
BY G. H. CHAMBERS
City Manager H. L. Derrick told the Times-News Saturday that an improved domestic water supply is almost a must before the city can seriously consider industrial growth and accelerated domestic growth.

A major user of water for industrial purposes could strain water facilities already overloaded many months out of the year, Derrick said.

"We could always resort to past practices which for the most part have been stop-gap in nature and not always too successful," said Derrick. He was referring to drilling additional deep wells.

The city returned this week-

The city already has contracted a firm, Morrison, Mather, consulting engineers, Helena, Mont., to do a water study for Twin Falls. The firm says the best and most logical place for water is near Blue Lakes in Snake river canyon.

It will cost money to build a new water supply and money is short. The city has no time to lose in planning to take care of the needs for expanded education facilities.

Looking at the bad side of the picture first, it appears the city might have to come up with additional money for the junior college proposal. The board of city commissioners has approved the plan.

Burley Girl Is Listed as Fair
BURLEY, Oct. 10—June Etchingham, 2½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etchingham, is still listed in fair condition with head injuries at Cassia Memorial hospital after being struck from a railroad track by a Union Pacific train.

The child was thrown from the train where she was sitting soon after engineer L. W. Culvert noticed her when he crossed 14th street. He had blown the whistle and slowed to about 10 miles per hour.

The train crew rushed back to the girl after the train had struck her from the track, halted a passing pickup truck and Calvert took the child to the hospital.

Democrats May Control Gem Senate, with GOP House
BY KEN ROBINSON
BOISE, Oct. 10 (UPI)—With decisions by the voters a little over three weeks away, it appears that the Gem state will be politically divided with a Democratically controlled senate and a Republican house.

Voters will choose a record number of lawmakers, 22 to grapple with the longest list of difficult problems faced by an Idaho legislature in recent years. Both parties have been working hard on legislative campaigns and a number of races could produce upsets.

The results will not only go far toward deciding such questions as whether Idaho will have a sales tax, but will be carefully measured by politicians looking ahead to the election of a governor in 1966.

The questions of legislative re-apportionment and the popularity of Sen. Barry Goldwater in Idaho are imponderables that could have an effect on the legislative contests.

Republicans still hope to retain the senate, whether they had a 33-21 edge two years ago. But Democrats can list at least 10 counties where they might pick up seats, to half that number where Republicans appear in line for possible gains.

Barring a strong Republican sweep in the state, democrats appear to have a far better chance of picking up the two seats they need to tie (or take) than Republicans have to stop them.

Republicans held a 34-20 edge in the house and expect to retain control. Democrats don't expect to win it, but hope to limit the majority and make it harder in one or two traditionally Republican counties, like Ada and Canyon.

In the house, Rep. Pete T. Genarunas, R., Boise, could face a challenge to his position as house speaker, and Rep. Herman J. McDevitt, D., Blainock, as minority leader, presuming Republicans retain control.

PROJECT MERCURY
spacecraft will be on display from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m. Friday at the Twin Falls high school in connection with two other space exhibits. Through the past flight, Project Mercury has established man's ability to perform demanding control and scientific tasks in the hostile environment of space.

College Plan Opposed by Filer Grange

FILER, Oct. 10 — A resolution opposing the present junior college district proposal as being too limited was approved this week by Filer Grange No. 215.

Copies of the resolution are being mailed to other Granges in the county.

In the resolution Grange No. 215 recommended the district in this area but commented the present proposal is "entirely inadequate, with too small a tax base."

The resolution claimed that it costs more than $1000 per student a year to operate the University of Idaho and Idaho State university, and projected this figure as basis of a college of 1000 students, to assist such a college would cost $100,000 a year to operate.

Total revenue in sight under the present proposal, the resolution claimed, would be $612,000.

Achievement Record

According to the legislative reorganization act, the U.S. Congress is required to adjourn each year by July 31, except in time of emergency or unless Congress provides otherwise.

Since the law was passed in 1946, it has been a rare session that Congress has not found it necessary to provide otherwise. In 1963, the first session of the 88th Congress worked right up to Dec. 10, only a week before the second session was to convene. This year, only the impending elections spurred the Congressmen to quit as early as they did.

As government and the times we live in become increasingly complex, year-long Congresses may well become the rule.

Longevity, however, is not necessarily equivalent to productivity. In 1963, the one distinguishing accomplishment of the legislative branch was the Senate's ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty. The only major bills passed were aid programs to colleges, nursing schools and mental health. President Kennedy's two urgent concerns—the tax cut and civil rights—were locked in committee.

This year it was a different story. The last of important legislation enacted by the 88th Congress, second session, is long and includes:

The 10-billion-dollar income tax cut, the civil rights law, aid to urban mass transit, the federal pay raise, the anti-poverty program, extension of the food stamp plan, the wilderness bill.

On the debit side, Congress failed to take any action on such long-standing matters as:

Setting up a basic—and enforced—code of ethical behavior for congressmen. In the wake of the Bobby Baker scandal, the Senate postponed the disagreeable job by creating a commission to study the whole area of government ethics for a couple of years.

Nothing was done to curb the mail-order of guns to anyone with the purchase price. Senator Dodd of Connecticut, cut, the one-man backer of a gun-control bill, can be expected to reintroduce it in the 89th Congress.

Although the Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment dealing with presidential disability, the House took no action. The House was also silent on Medicare after a bill was passed by the Senate.

There was also the fiasco of trying to nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court on state voting district reapportionment, then trying to get it into going away and finally begging the Court for more time, which it had already granted.

Potomac pundits have explanations for the remarkable difference between the first and second halves of the 88th Congress:

The absence of partisan politics following the assassination of President Kennedy, which carried over into the honeymoon period usually allowed a new President; the solidifying of the Democrats behind the President because it was an election year; and perhaps the most important element of all, Lyndon's masterful touch on the delicate chords of Congress which, if not handled correctly, produced more dissonance than sweet harmony.

At any rate, both the candidates and the electorate definitely have a "do-something" Congress to talk about this campaign.

SMALL THREAT TO COIA

As any good Communist knows, one of the most dangerous things about capitalism is its appeal, through the invidious power of advertising, to the weaknesses of socialist youth.

Take American soft drinks, for example, whose seductive signs can be seen all around the world from mountaintops to deserts.

Well, the Kremlin is going to do something about this kind of imperialism. According to Radio Free Europe, Russia is preparing to send millions of bottles of a new (to the West) taste sensation called "Kvas" to the United States and Western Europe.

The recipe for Kvas doesn't make it seem likely that there will be any large-scale defections in the capitalist camp, however. It's not even a soft drink but a thin, sour beer made by pouring warm water on rye or barley and letting it ferment.

Even if Kvas does prove popular, we have nothing to fear. Look what happened to vodka. It is now fully naturalized and its manufacture and sale are producing even more of that nasty capitalist Karl Marx got us upset about.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Communist China's primitive nuclear "device" has strengthened the arguments of those in the State Department who claim that the best way to "contain" the Far Eastern Tiger is to remove its label as an international outlaw.

From the United States' viewpoint, this could be accomplished by recognizing the Peking regime and voting for its admission to the United Nations. In turn, this would open the way for an attempt to persuade Red China to sign the nuclear arms test ban.

Proponents of such steps insist now is the time to take them before Peking becomes an authentic nuclear power. Peking now has no nuclear stockpile and probably will not have one for another decade. Thus, it is argued, the Mao-Tse-tung regime now would be negotiating from weakness, not strength, that it would be more amenable to Western proposals than it would when it has stocked up on nuclear materials.

SECOND OPPORTUNITY.—The effort to get Red China to accept the test ban would be in the form of a second chance, of course. It was offered a place in the club two years ago and turned it down, largely out of diplomatic politeness with both the Soviet Union and the United States. This second chance would be an attempt to show the world that its intentions are peaceful, though its nuclear preparations are warlike.

Mao and his cronies talk tough in spurning Moscow's policy of co-existence, but they really are in a quandary as to how to extend their influence and power over the new nations of Asia and Africa, they have to admit privately that a Communist China pledged to a policy of co-existence, peace and trade will do more for the poverty-stricken countries than a policy of spending billions on nuclear armaments to rattle at the world.

Meanwhile, of course, the Mao regime can feel its lack. There is no respect and fear for Peking in Asia where the smaller countries like Cambodia, Thailand, Laos and the two Viet Nams perch on China's doorstep. Prince Sihanouk, the neurotic boss of Cambodia, will get a much bigger audience now when he declares that Red China is the wave of the future. India will become increasingly uneasy.

TIME FOR ACTION.—This primitive nuclear "device" also provides Peking with a new weapon against the Soviet Union's efforts to dominate the communist world. Previously, Moscow could preen itself as the world's only communist nuclear power. Now, although it has made merely a start, the Mao regime in effect has issued a warning to its comrades in other communist countries that it must be reckoned with in the nuclear field.

From the West's viewpoint, the silver lining is that there is still time to maneuver. It takes at least five years after the development of a primitive weapon to build an effective atomic bomb. The Mao regime has more years to create a hydrogen bomb. Besides, both American and Russian intelligence know where China's nuclear plant is located, and it will be highly vulnerable to the air power of both these countries for some years to come.

But time passes quickly, and those in the State Department who favor a "peace campaign" toward Red China insist we can't waste any of that time. They want to start talking turkey to Mao right now.

Views of Others

NEGROES IN BRITAIN
The United States has 10 per cent colored citizens. Can we expect that, unless we take positive steps to prevent it, we will not have many of the same difficulties which Africa faces today? It is a mistaken type of liberalism which assumes that all will be well if we pretend that color does not exist.

There is a problem, which springs from prejudice against people who are different from the majority, whether we disapprove of it or not. So powerful is this factor that we may have to accept that unless we discriminate actively in favor of our colored minority, we will, in effect, be discriminating against them. We may need special treatment in education and housing if they are not to become an underprivileged section of the community, condemned to perform the menial tasks of our society.

Colored people are forced to live in slums because they are at the end of the queue for homes, and to take unskilled jobs because they lack the necessary training for anything else. The result will be to reinforce the stereotyped image of the race as a "community" of the lower class, potentially violent situation. The Observer, London.

KING-SIZE AUDIT
The new house office building in Washington, D.C., has been rising for the past eight years as its cost has been rising from an estimated $4 million to a possible $9 million dollars. All that time, it has been the subject of controversy. It has been called a "white elephant" and a "boondoggle." It has escaped full public scrutiny because the supervising office of the capital architect has been beyond the reach of independent investigation.

The situation has changed, with approval by Congress of legislation authorizing the general accounting office to conduct a "site audit" of projects directed by the historic sacrosanct capital architect. First such audit is expected to concern the Rayburn building, due for completion next year.

One interesting point: The contractor of the huge new office building is Matthew McCloskey, the same McCloskey accused of making a $35,000 kickback on another capital city construction project in association with the disgraced Bobby Baker.

GAO findings may very well be embarrassing to members of the house, especially to the ruling majority Democrats, safe forecast is that the audit will not be completed before election day.—Portland Oregonian.

"DANGER ON THE RIGHT"

The frustrations of the cold war, the on-crescendo of the welfare state and the tribulations engendered by Negro pressure for faster integration have caused a mushroom growth of extreme rightwing organizations in the last few years. The most unrepentant and virulent of these are the groups and where they get their money has now been completed by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The study is to be published on Oct. 9 as a book called "Danger on the Right." Its main purpose is to provide campaign ammunition against Senator Goldwater. Yet, its real value is likely to be in the more general area of the study's assembly of a vast store of information on the programs and personnel, the interconnections and divergences of a movement aimed at influencing the course of American politics—one that spends an estimated 14 to 25 million dollars a year to that end.

The authors are convinced that the Radical Right and its allies are undermining democracy by "false counsel of fear, hatred, confusion and suspicion." They say they are emphasizing that there is no organized conspiracy on the right, despite the conspiratorial trappings in which many of the groups wrap themselves or they dislike to be called "Communists." In a democracy the best antidote to such extremes is not suppression but maximum exposure. That is the worth of the Anti-Defamation League's study.—New York Times.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Editor's note: Pot Shots, whose column normally occupies this space is ill. The Pot Shots column will be resumed upon his return.

BY DICK WEST
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Mountain climbers undoubtedly are the most articulate of all athletes. Consider this typical quote:

"It is noted for a beauty that brings out qualities other than materialism. It induces its visitors to demonstrate their basic nature."

Perhaps you recognize that as a comment by Barry Bishop, who was referring to Mount Everest.

At any rate, you surely recognize that it wasn't a comment by Yogi Berra, referring to Yankee stadium.

I regret that Bishop, one of five Americans who conquered Everest in May, 1953, could not have been along this week when a six-man American team of which I was a member conquered Old Rag mountain.

If ever an occasion called for elegance of phrase and nobility of thought, this was it. Shortly before the advance party was scheduled to leave base camp No. 1, which had been set up in my front yard, the expedition was joined by bad news.

The latest meteorological data, ascertained by dialing the weather bureau's recorded forecast, indicated that the maximum temperature would be 80 degrees. We had anticipated a high of only 70.

It was by then too late to try to add additional supplies. They fell upon our group leader, Naylor Glaser, of the Washington Daily News, the fateful decision on whether to undertake the expedition without an extra ration of goodrains.

With typical courage, Glaser waved us forward, knowing full well it would be at least five hours before our next hot shower. Some of the more superstitious members of the party considered this an ill omen.

After driving some 80 miles by highways that in places were only four lanes wide, we eventually reached the base of Old Rag, known far and wide as "The Roof of Madison County."

Glaser pointed out the important landmarks, including the spring whose waters were reputed to be excellent for shaving.

"People travel for hundreds of miles to shave at this spring," Glaser said.

He did not attempt to describe the rest of the ascent other than to say that it took us over terrain so steep you couldn't climb it in a golf cart. When finally we crowded up the summit of Old Rag, summit, two a crowd—we could sense that "history" was being made. We were the first team of climbers ever to find itself in a mountain climber's without anything to say. We were all too winded to speak.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—If there is any big-city state that Sen. Barry Goldwater has a good chance to carry it is Ohio. That is why President Johnson has come back into the state, why the will, 6,000 miles and why Senator Goldwater will spend at least two more days here.

Not since 1948 has a Democrat carried this stronghold of Republican oration. In 1948, Goldwater won the state by 7,000 votes over Thomas E. Dewey, out of nearly 3,000,000 cast. And this was in spite of the 37,500 votes for Henry Wallace, running on a left-of-center third-party ticket.

The President moves so fast and furious on his campaign sorties that continual riding is rather like water-skiing. You have to be skilled just to hang on and keep afloat. That is where Stephen M. Young finds himself in his effort to be elected to a second term at the age of 41.

By Senate standards this is not in the rare and yellow at all. Ben. Carl Hayden of Arizona celebrated his 47th birthday the other day. At 83 Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island is still going strong. As elsewhere, in 1960 since he could in all probability have been reelected to another term.

But Young has in Robert Taft, Jr., an opponent with whom Republicans believe is magic in Ohio. He is 77 years old. The President must carry the state by generous margins, it is believed, if the senator is to make it.

Yet Young is scrappy and full of a bouncy kind of humor. What is more, he seems to come his own way. Last spring, when John Glenn entered the Democratic primary with the promise that all his great television appeal would be pitted against Young, before the campaign began Glenn had the misfortune to slip and fall, injuring his head in such a way as to impair his sense of balance and lay him up for several months.

Ever since President Dwight D. Eisenhower had a heart attack in 1955 Congress has torn itself with this dilemma: how to get it done had nothing when it came to killing him.

Likewise it went home without making it a federal crime to kill a president even though the whole world saw how the Dallas police botched the handling of Oswald who was assassinated by Jack Ruby while in the custody.

Immediately after Kennedy's slaying in 1963 it seemed—for a while—that Congress would make it a federal crime to kill, or try to kill, or to conspire to kill a president and others in line to succeed him.

When the seven-man commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren finished its investigation of Kennedy's killing and issued its report on Sept. 28 it strongly recommended making it a federal offense to assassinate a president.

But Congress was in a rush to quit, which it did five days later. The subject is bound to come up again next year but there's no reason to think Congress will do any more than that. It's the past.

It seems odd that Congress has delayed taking this final step since it is now 47 years since the legislators first made it a federal crime to threaten a president.

This becomes doubly odd when it is remembered that in 1905 and 1907 Congress passed additional legislation making it a federal crime to threaten harm to a vice president, a presidential elector or other officers in the line of succession to the presidency.

The Warren commission said presidents have always received threatening letters and the volume became so big by 1949 that the secret service set up a protective research section.

Its job was to analyze and make available to those charged with protecting the president—meaning the secret service, above all—information from the White House mail and other sources on people considered capable of violence to the president.

Thousands of threatening, obscene, abusive and other communications having a security interest reach the White House every year.

British participation in such fleet itself is doubtful. The Conservatives presently in power are cool toward the plan. And the Laborists who could come to power after Oct. 15 elections are even less keen.

The Italians will join on the condition that Britain also joins. Officially, German government officials favor it.

But a German here takes the gloomy view that in the event of war, Germany would face extinction anyway. And he expresses the view that the multinational NATO fleet simply would be the lesser of two evils. Just as he believes that the Germans accepted Hitler as the lesser of two evils between communism and unemployment in Germany following the years of World War I.

But to come back to the Norwegian point of view.

Oswald Jacoby, Bridge

SLAM DEPENDS ON DIAMONDS
It was one of those free-wheeling rubber bridge games. With 14 high-card points, North refused to be shut out and doubled.

After East passed: Ted Von Greyer, Dayton, O., jumped right to six spades.

Now Ted led a diamond to dummy's king. East held in his queen, so Ted played a heart to his ace and threw East in with right to six spades.

East had to lead a club. He had no other cards in his hand. Ted played a low club and Ted was in to come up with the ace and was in to discard his losing heart on dummy's fourth diamond.

If East had thrown his queen of diamonds away, Ted would have won the game. He would have thrown West in with the third diamond, whereupon West would be forced to lead away from one of his kings.

2 Juveniles Arrested for Stealing Gas

GOODING, Oct. 10.—Two juveniles were arrested Thursday night when they were caught stealing gasoline from a parked truck on south Main street in Gooding.

Chief Vernon Davis reported that the two boys, 16 and 17 years old, originally from Eureka, Calif., had stolen a car belonging to the father of one of them. They drove the car to Coos Bay, Ore., where they were arrested.

In Burns, Ore., they stole a 1967 Chevrolet station wagon which they were driving when they were arrested in Gooding. The youths will be arraigned before Judge O. B. Spensen and the FBI will investigate charge of interstate transportation of stolen vehicles.

Headquarters For West End GOP Opened

BUIT, Oct. 10.—The West End GOP headquarters is now open in Buit located in the Griffin building at the corner intersection of Main street and Broadway avenue with Mrs. James C. McMillin as headquarters supervisor.

The headquarters will be open daily from 9 a.m. through 5:30 p.m. to give residents in the west end of Twin Falls county an opportunity to meet Republican candidates in addition to receiving important information on national, state and local elections, water, presidential nominees, and election information.

Free coffee and doughnuts are being served at the headquarters during the open hours designated.

College Is Discussed at Filer Meet

FILER, Oct. 10.—Reasons for making Twin Falls county the proposed community college district were discussed by Eldon Evans, CPA of the firm of Riddle, Evans and Blackwell, Twin Falls, at the annual meeting of the junior-senior PTSA at the high school auditorium.

"The reason the district is planned for one county rather than multiple counties is because if the vote were called for multiple counties and one county did not vote a two-thirds majority, the whole measure would be thrown out," stated Evans. He went on to explain that it is easier to get voters in one county to vote on the measure.

Evans explained that if the college district measure is approved, the state board of trustees would appoint five local trustees to find a location and appoint teachers for the junior-senior college. These five trustees would be replaced by electors at the next school election.

A junior college in the county would not necessarily have to be on a large scale, noted Evans, but rather could begin in a small way and grow such as the Boise Junior college which had its beginning in 1937 in the basement of a girls' dormitory in an Episcopal school, he added.

Evans introduced William C. Orange, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce secretary, who also spoke.

The meeting, first of the season, was opened by reciting of the pledge of allegiance and singing of a patriotic song by the group. Mrs. Emil Bernardi sang the singing, accompanied at the piano by Dolores Butta.

Mrs. Lauren Butta, president, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Thurston Kruse, secretary, read the minutes. Mrs. Criville Reinke, gave the treasurer's report.

The group voted to donate $75 to a newly formed citizen's committee to buy instruction books and equipment. Names and duties of this committee will be announced soon, said the president.

Mrs. Butta introduced Thomas Turner, superintendent of the district. Arthur Chubb, principal, Chubb introduced the faculty at the school.

Darwin Yoder, student council president, spoke on the aims and purposes of the organization and explained how membership is attained. Yoder introduced Glenda Langer, secretary, and Tammi Langer, treasurer.

Refreshments were served by the executive board. Fall leaves and flowers decorated the room and pumpkin candle holders enclosed the tables.

State police identified the youngster as Scott Marvin Priestly, Smithfield, Utah. Officers said the boy dashed from a park into the street and into the path of a car driven by a woman. The car, a 1962 Ford, was driven by a woman. The boy was killed by the car. The driver was not arrested.

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—Max Yost, executive manager of the Associated Newspapers of Idaho, urged today that businessmen increase their legislative lobbying activities. "It is a simple fact," Yost said in a statement, "that people from every walk of life are trying to influence legislation. It is a natural and healthy process in our form of government as long as it does not include bribery or what might be termed unfair practices."

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—No change was made in the forecast for Idaho's onion crop in the past month, the U.S. department of agriculture said today, with production still forecast at 1,070,000 hundredweight. GRANGEVILLE, Oct. 10 (AP)—State Sen. William J. Dee, D., Idaho, Democratic minority leader in the senate in the 1963 legislature, asserted today that actions of the Republicans in that session provided no basis for claims that the party is "one of progress" in Idaho. Dee said Gov. Robert E. Smylie made that claim at a recent campaign workshop for GOP legislative candidates. "The governor," Dee said, "must have been one of his usual out-of-state trips during the 1963 session of the legislature, to make such a statement. On three separate occasions the Republican party in the senate demonstrated anything but progress."

Area School Holds First PTA Meeting

RUPERT, Oct. 10.—Wayne Fagg, principal of the Washington junior high school discussed new methods of grouping students according to their ability, during the first meeting of the Washington school PTA held Thursday evening at the school auditorium.

Students are grouped according to their ability to read and handle the various English skills, Fagg said. As many as seven classes are not at the same ability level and students are allowed to progress to a higher level as their ability warrants the change.

Fagg said at least one class is reading from second grade books in an effort to learn the basic reading and spelling skills, thereby helping them progress to higher levels of learning.

The school principal said it is hoped the system will be beneficial to the slower students and to faster students who are allowed to progress as their ability demands.

O. Paul Moore, president of the PTA, introduced several of his chairmen including Mrs. Vance Beckwith, program, David Spreier, publicity and magazine, Mrs. Richard Bohle, membership, and Wayne Fagg, legislative.

Fagg proposed legislation to come up for election at the state PTA convention Nov. 4, and after a brief discussion the group decided to wait until the county-wide legislative program to be held Oct. 22 at Minico before making a decision on the legislation to help the voting delegates.

Fagg introduced the faculty at the junior high school and oranges were presented to the women and buttonholes to the men.

(Fourth of a Series about Idaho Irrigation Development)

60 Years of Hard Work Have Produced Idaho's Outstanding IRRIGATION DEVELOPMENT

Large-scale reclamation and irrigation work in Idaho began around the turn of the century, and has continued its dramatic growth to this day with undiminished prospects for the future.

Most of the nearly 3,000,000 acres of irrigated land in cultivation in Idaho were developed by private enterprise. About half a million acres were developed entirely by federal reclamation, and federal projects also furnish supplemental water to irrigation districts and canal companies for more than a million acres.

Thus, about half of Idaho's irrigated acres are supplied in whole or in part by federal water development—the other half has an independent water source.

The most substantial irrigation growth in recent years is found in the cumulative enterprise of Idaho farmers using electric pumping to bring raw desert lands into productivity. More than 1,000,000 acres of irrigated land in southern Idaho have water supplied by pumping—from wells and from the Snake River itself—using low-cost electric power from investor-owned utility companies.

The successful result for Idaho has come from co-ordination of all these efforts toward a single purpose—that of developing the state's water resources and constructively building its economy without impairing existing agricultural development.

Idaho's time-tested approach to water utilization is producing results—its record proves it! Idaho's rate of irrigation growth—50,000 acres a year—is OVER TWICE that of the other ten western states.

Local Sorority Previews Fall and Winter Hand-Knit Fashions for 1964

BY NORMA HERZINGER

That old saying, "Tend to your knitting," can be interpreted many different ways. I am sure that in one sense of the saying it could very well apply to the many Magic Valley women who supplied the beautiful hand-knit articles for the Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Alpha Nu chapter's fashion show held at the Bishop Rhine auditorium.

Surely these women certainly must have "tended to their knitting" to have created such stylish and elegant fashions.

Fall fashions for 1964 strongly reflect the casual American way of life—thick bulky coatings, growing trend toward sheer dress woolen knits and flirty mohairs. It is texture, texture, texture in wool. The look is wearable, young and decidedly sportive.

Although fashion can be fickle, and often is, many trends have been around for years, and have stayed to become classics.

Examples are the constantly changing hemlines, little low heels and gorgeous knits. "Sportive" is the description of our busy, action-filled lives today. As the word suggests, the emphasis (Continued on Page 12, Col. 1)

Local Sorority Has Style Show Of Hand-Knits

is on clothes with casual, relaxed, easy lines. And this is exactly what this fashion show previewed.

The style show was made possible by the Yarn shop. Those diligent women and girls who made the knitwear, and the Yarn company and Kinney's who contributed the accessories.

Mrs. Clifford Peterson, Jerome, and Mrs. Ivan Skinner, Twin Falls, narrated.

Madison members who met here and women from throughout out Magic Valley. Mrs. David Crigger was general chairman in charge of arrangements. Ruth Hurst and Mrs. George McFarland were in charge of publicity. Mrs. George Layh and Mrs. Carl Foster, decorating. Mrs. George Putnam and Mrs. Agnes Hurst, refreshments, and Mrs. Dwayne Knigge, tickets.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha, founded May 1, 1929, and incorporated in the state of Missouri, is one of the largest non-academic sororities in the world. There are more than 15,000 chapters and more than 40,000 members throughout the United States and abroad.

The sorority is not directly connected with any academic institution, but does place a great deal of emphasis on education, and is founded on the same ideas and principles as college sororities.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha translated, freely from the Greek language means, "Pursuit of learning." The purpose is three-fold: to provide cultural and educational programs, to sponsor benevolent projects and to stage social activities for members and their guests. Members meet twice each month, once for their educational and service programs, and again for the social functions.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha is filled with many types of association — a quiet evening at a friend's or a potluck dinner with the husbands, or an international convention in some far corner of the land. But whatever it is, it brings people together and makes them friends. There is a special brand of closeness which long has been one of ESA's finest charms.

Each year chapters from all over the world donate more than one million dollars and hours helping others, and they have fun doing it.

Each state has its own philanthropic project. Idaho's is the Idaho Crippled Children and Adults, to which the proceeds from this style show will be given.

Last year the sorority donated $2,347.15 in aid to this worthwhile project.

Each ESA chapter has either a charitable or civic project and is active in many national drives to help improve health and living conditions throughout the world. The Alpha Nu chapter, ESA, every year gives food, clothing and toys to a needy family in Twin Falls at Christmas. They sponsored a coffee hour for Muscular Dystrophy and put out canisters for this, also. For the past two years they have assisted in the Easter Seal drive in Twin Falls.

There are many well-known honorary members in this group from all walks of life, such as Lawrence Welk, the band leader; Helen Hayes, the actress; Bob Hope, the actor; Astronaut and Mrs. Alan B. Shepard, and Dorothy Kirsan, Metropolitan opera star, to mention just a few.

Incidentally ESA has been nicknamed the "Sweetheart sorority," because International headquarters is located in the sweetheart town of the nation, Loveland, Colo., nestled at the foot of the majestic Rocky mountains.

Mary Graves, Ruby Exchange Nuptial Promise

GOODING, Oct. 10—Mary Lou Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Graves, Gooding, became the bride of Kenneth E. Ruby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ruby, Fairfield, Sept. 6 at the First Methodist church, Gooding.

The detachable chapel train was caught at the waist with a flat self-fabric bow. The wedding gown was made by the bride.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion cascaded from pearl-trimmed net petals, surrounded by heart-shaped petals. The bride's bouquet was pink rosebuds with ivy and pink streamers resting on a white pillow borrowed from Mrs. William Mink. She wore a blue garter, and had a penny in her shoe.

As a token of sentiment, she wore a pearl necklace given to her by the bridegroom.

Army Reserve Intelligence Unit Drills in T.F. Area

Twin Falls unit of the Idaho national guard, 11th armored cavalry, was joined by an army reserve military intelligence unit from Fort Lawton, Wash., for a week-end map exercise.

The combined unit maneuver is being held near McCall Springs and the units will work as if in Korea. Korean maps will be used for the maneuver.

The exercise is the first of its kind to combine two such units for one program.

The military intelligence unit is formed to act as intelligence support for the armored cavalry and consists of interpreters, photo interpreters, order of battle specialists and a counter intelligence crew.

Twenty men from Fort Lawton were flown to Twin Falls by marine reserve fliers for the exercise.

This week-end's drill also is a drill for the marine fliers, who returned to Fort Lawton Saturday. Another marine flight crew will return to Twin Falls to pick up the intelligence unit Sunday.

Eight men of the intelligence unit also served with the armored cavalry during its two week summer camp.

Girl, 8, Optimistic About Chances of Saving Her Leg

CAMDEN, N.J., Oct. 10 (AP) — Eight-year-old Anita Christie bravely optimistic about the chances of saving her right leg. But if it can't be saved, she says she wants "a wooden one—if it doesn't cost too much."

Anita, whose leg was all but severed Friday when she fell beneath the wheels of a freight train, was given "less than a 50-50 chance" by doctors at West Jersey hospital despite her high hopes.

Her mental state — admired by all around her — has nothing to do with it, explained Dr. Norman Ekbold, in charge of the case.

"It's a case of being lucky or unlucky," Dr. Ekbold said. "If her circulation is maintained the leg can be saved. It added it will be at least 10 days before anything positive is known."

The youngster, a third-grade pupil at Mickle elementary school, was on her way to a playground when the accident occurred. Police said she was trying to hop onto the low, metal step of a boxcar when she fell.

Nurses at the hospital's intensive care unit described her today as "not crying or sad, either."

"My leg hurts a little," she repeated several times, "and I want to go home." But even a

Encephalitis Cases Noted At Camden

TRENTON, N.J., Oct. 10 (U.P.) — A total of 48 suspected and confirmed cases of St. Louis-type encephalitis have been reported in the Camden area of New Jersey, the N.J. state health department said today.

Six deaths, all of persons over 65, have been attributed to the outbreak, which began in August. Health authorities said the outbreak reached its peak during the second and third weeks of September.

The outbreak is centered in the Camden-Burlington county area in the southern part of the state, across the Delaware river from Philadelphia.

Saturday's total includes seven newly identified cases. Another suspected case was dropped from the previous total when it was determined the patient had another ailment.

The disease is the same form of encephalitis that hit Houston, Tex., southern Illinois, Kentucky and Arkansas in the past few months.

The disease is carried by the "house" mosquito, a city dweller that breeds in puddles and streams, particularly those containing sewage.

White's Vote On Wheat Is Hit by Aide

BOISE, Oct. 10 (U.P.) — State Republican Chairman John O. McMurray said today Democratic Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., "continues to apologize" for voting for the 1944 wheat-cotton bill.

"The irony of it is that farmers would still be receiving at least 75 per cent of parity ($1.80 per bushel) instead of $1.25 per bushel for their wheat if the Democrats had not insisted upon ramming through a new program which producers had voted down," McMurray said.

McMurray charged the administration's campaign to drive wheat stocks on the market in competition with sales by farmers "in an apparent reprisal action against farmers who refused to sign up in the 1944 program."

"White insisted on going against the wishes of wheat growers in his district and despite his excuse has a hand in the farm economic setback of his area."

Luncheon Is Conducted by Area Chamber

RUPERT, Oct. 10 — Funds for the Howell canyon recreation area are still being solicited and members of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce were reminded donations of gas and use of trucks were still needed, when members met for a luncheon meeting Thursday at Hirling's cafe.

Robert Balch, chamber director, conducted the meeting in the absence of Richard Bohle, president.

Balch reported trucks and donations of gas had been very good so far, but much help is still needed to get the road to the Pomerelle recreation area completed before the weather gets bad. Highway officials are hoping to get the seven miles of road graded this fall and plan to have the road blacktopped next year.

Donations may be called in or left at the Chamber of Commerce office, or with Gus Goode, chairman of the highway committee.

Henry Dockter, agriculture committee chairman, reported on the annual business-agriculture dinner.

Grant Catmull, chairman of the Congressional Action committee for the Chamber of Commerce was speaker for the luncheon. He discussed a report from the national Chamber of Commerce concerning grants and funds which are available for community betterment.

Catmull thanked members who finished the political action course held recently and recognized chamber members who are running for public office including Mervin Lusk, Joe Shelton, Dale Garner, Lloyd Knodel and Theo Johnson.

Guests of the club were Robert Thomas, Brabant, Queens, Australia; and Ronald S. Cutler, Twin Falls.

Bonus Plan Proposed for U.S. Taxpayer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (U.P.) — Treasury officials are paying increasing attention to a proposal that would give a bonus to the taxpayer who doesn't use any of the legal loopholes.

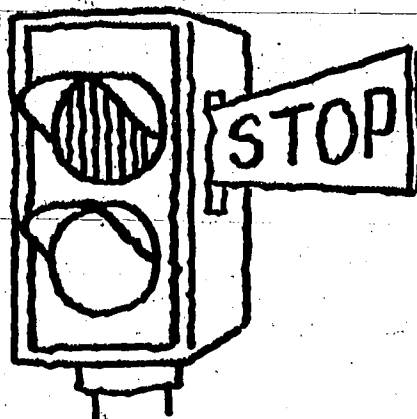

The plan, as originally advanced by Sen. Russell Long, D., La., would provide relief for high bracket taxpayers who do not claim any of the many special categories which offer tax breaks.

After trying unsuccessfully to attach the proposal to the 1944 income tax bill, Long broadened and revised it and put it in the Congressional Record just before congress adjourned.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and other top Treasury officials believe the idea has merit but they are not committed to support it. Treasury technicians helped Long in drawing up the proposal.

The latest version of the plan retains the optional method of figuring income tax—which is special interest for high bracket income taxpayers—and it adds some automatic tax-saving features for middle and low income taxpayers.

Even under the revised plan which will apply in 1955, a married man who earns $100,000 a year and takes the standard deduction would pay a rate of 8.5 per cent on part of his income and his total tax would be $8,500. Under the optional plan, the highest rate would be 6 per cent and his tax would be $6,500.

Writer Takes Issue With Statements of Lloyd Walker

Editor, Times-News: I am writing you with a sense of grievance, excited by a sense of duty. I read the article in Oct. 8 issue of Times-News Democratic Committee Chairman, Lloyd Walker, stating that "We never have to explain anything to the President" and that the President is responsible for the statements of the President and his actions. "We also want every voter to know that the on-going election is a referendum on the Republican Party in Idaho and on the candidates for President." I wish to take issue with Mr. Walker on both statements. I am sure that Mr. Walker has been writing in the dark for the past few years and is now blind and can see nothing. I wish to see the facts, and to explain a few things that, as he puts it, the President didn't have to.

Why, oh why, is this administration and those of the President and those of the President's cabinet allowing the nearly complete deterioration of this great nation by step? Why did President Johnson give Robert Oppenheimer, the one-time scientific director of the World War II A-bomb project, the 1953 Enrico Fermi award of $50,000 in tax-free government funds?

The man had his security clearance withdrawn in June of 1954 because of communist dealings. This man's wife, brother, and other close friends were communist members, and Oppenheimer recommended a job on the top secret A-bomb project. He was given a security clearance and was given royal treatment at a White House dinner, and with all the U. S. government's expense and protection.

Writer Scores Voter Apathy, Lack of Interest in Politics

Editor, Times-News: I don't suppose anyone has ever heard of the traitor motorist who kicked the tires out of his car because it had a flat tire. This story comes to mind each time I hear one of America's "worst enemies state." I am interested in politics and don't want to know anything, or "Why should I vote?" "What's the use, they'll win anyway."

Man Warns About Voting for Unscrupulous Candidate

Editor, Times-News: Voting the most important business before the American public this month. The whole world is watching and waiting for our presidential choice. The story on the front page of last Sunday's Times-News is a disgraceful example of the type of official elected to the office of sheriff by a minority of voters in Mississippi.

Figures by Opponent of Junior College Questioned

Editor, Times-News: Mr. Dever stated last week if we voted for a junior college district in Twin Falls county we would be voting for a 10 million dollar tax rate. Figure it. My figures tell me that with an assessed valuation of Twin Falls county at $48,680,544 figured at eight mills the $22,718,435 in tax it would take over 20 years to raise 10 million dollars.

Mother Criticises Actions Of T.F. Sheriff's Department

Filer Man Questions Levies For Junior College District

Editor, Times-News: The promoters have their fact sheet out and published in the Times-News. The "why the proposed college is limited to Twin Falls county" could be misleading; there is no local mill on the maximum size of a junior college district.

Where are the existing facilities? This could be a big question mark. The promoters state a college could be operated on 60 per cent of 8 mills or a mill 1/2 (refer to page 10, table 5 of their brochure). Using their figures of income in table 5, the expenses would not exceed the income on 8 mills. These figures are based on an enrollment of 300 students. What happens to 8 mills and 1,000 students? A big percentage of those 1,000 students would be from adjacent counties at Twin Falls county taxpayers' expense who would pay for providing the facilities.

Facts on Sugar Legislation Are Outlined by Claiborn

Jack D. Claiborn, Republican state representative from Twin Falls county and president of the Idaho Beet Growers association, Kimberly, expressed surprise Saturday "that we have an authority on sugar legislation in the person of Robert Stepanovich."

On Oct. 1, the Times-News quoted Claiborn as saying that sugar beet growers in Idaho face severe reductions in beet acreage next year "if the Democratic-dominated committee and the Johnson administration carry out their plan of doing nothing."

Thursday, Stepanovich, Democratic candidate for state representative, and Claiborn's opponent, charged that Claiborn was confusing national and state issues. He attacked the Democratic administration's policies on sugar beet acreage allotments.

Claiborn said Saturday that the statement he made Oct. 1 "was a true statement of the facts on that date."

"It is not true," he continued, "that the house agriculture committee was considering sugar legislation at that time." He explained that the committee chairman, Congressman Cooley, had adjourned the committee Sept. 29 without taking action on marketing relief for the domestic sugar industry.

"On Friday, Oct. 2, Senator Bennett from Utah introduced an amendment in the senate to the house-passed tariff reclassification act which would have increased the sugar beet marketing allotment by 275,000 tons and the mainland cane sugar marketing relief for the domestic sugar industry."

"On Friday, Oct. 2, Senator Bennett from Utah introduced an amendment in the senate to the house-passed tariff reclassification act which would have increased the sugar beet marketing allotment by 275,000 tons and the mainland cane sugar marketing relief for the domestic sugar industry."

"I wish to point out," Representative Claiborn said, "that many congressmen worked very hard to get sugar legislation, but because of the secretary of agriculture and Congressman Cooley, we find one of our few cash crops will have to take a cut for 1965."

"Perhaps if Mr. Stepanovich is elected to the legislature," Claiborn opined, "he will be successful in correcting the problems of the sugar beet grower, the wheat grower, the beef producer, and increase the price of beans."

Claiborn is due to attend a sugar beet industry meeting in Denver Monday where plans are to be worked out for acreage allotments for the 1965 crop.

Bill Shaw Leads Bengals To 20-12 Victory Before Record Homecoming Mob

POCATELLO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Quarterback Billy Shaw sparked Idaho State university to a 20-12 homecoming football victory over Fresno State college today before a record homecoming crowd since 1935. Shaw gained 102 yards rushing and completed six out of nine passes for 82 yards, including two touchdowns. He also ran 20 yards for another score. The victory gave Idaho State a 3-1 season record.

Steelers Rap Browns From Division Lead

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10 (AP)—Pounding continuously on the ground, the Pittsburgh Steelers beat the Cleveland Browns 23-7 before a crowd of 80,530 tonight and dropped the Browns to second place in the Eastern division race of the National Football league. John Henry Johnson, a fullback who ran like a halfback, scored three touchdowns and posted the best single game rushing effort this season in the NFL.

Johnson tallied on dashes of 33 and 45 yards and plunged four yards for another score. He picked up 200 yards in 30 carries. This topped a 137-yard effort by Tommy Mason of the Minnesota Vikings on Sept. 13.

	Steelers	Browns
First downs	21	14
Rushing yards	251	124
Passing yards	124	132
Passes completed	9-11	13-28
Passes intercepted	1-3	4-10
Fumbles lost	0	1
Yards penalized	50	30

It was also a Steeler rushing record, topping his own record of 182 yards in 1960. The Steelers took a 10-0 lead in the first quarter and were never in trouble. Mike Clark kicked a 21-yard field goal and Johnson burst up the middle for a 33-yard touchdown. The big fullback dashed 45 yards in the second quarter, beating the Browns' defense. A secondary in a race to the corner flag. Except for an 18-yard touchdown pass from Frank Ryan to Charley Collins in the second quarter, the Steeler defense stopped the Browns cold in the first half, giving up only five first downs.

The Steelers used seven minutes on an 18-yard touchdown drive in the third quarter, with Johnson piling into the end zone from the four-yard line. The Steelers rushed for 354 yards while holding the Browns to 65.

Missouri Slips Past K-Staters

MANHATTAN, Kan., Oct. 10 (AP)—Missouri scored early and held off subliminal Kansas State to get its first Big Eight football victory 7-0 in a hard hitting defensive battle today.

K-State dominated the rest of the first half after the Missouri touchdown. Missouri turned back three scoring threats and kept the Wildcats well in check in the last half.

Kansas State's Doug Dusenbury, the nation's leading punter, fumbled a fourth down pass from center in the first period. He hurried, low punt was blocked and Missouri took over at the K-State 33, scoring in nine plays.

Johnny Roland got the touchdown from the one on fourth down.

Oklahoma State Stuns Colorado With 14-10 Upset

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 10 (AP)—Oklahoma State drove 55 yards for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter, then stopped a frantic Colorado threat which reached the Cowboy nine-yard line to take a 14-10 Big Eight conference victory today.

Colorado's late surge came after Glenn Baxter's 20-yard punt set up the Buffaloes on their own 43-yard line. Colorado drove for a first down on the Oklahoma State 13 and quarterback Dennis McCall picked up four yards to the nine.

But Oklahoma State's defensive line met the challenge and the 20 where the Cowboys took over three plays later.

Oklahoma State's winning drive came after Colorado kicked a 33-yard field goal in the third quarter. Baxter's 20-yard pass to Lynn Chadwick started Valley back with a 23-yard off tackle run in the third quarter and minutes later scored on the same play from 15 yards out. He also converted.

Vikings Nip Indians On Last-Second Play

EDEN-HAZELTON, Oct. 10—A 16-yard pass on the final play of the game carried the Valley Vikings to a 20-13 come-from-behind victory over the Shoshone Indians last night. The decisive pitch went from Lupe Torres to Terry English in the end zone and capped a rally that erased Shoshone's 13-0 halftime edge. The Indians moved in front when they recovered a fumble at the Valley 40-yard line and eventually sent Larry Haddock in from a sane away. Later Shoshone again pounced on a Valley fumble at the 30-yard line. Steve Thorn cashed that break in on a 12-yard end sweep.

Ducks' 14-0 Lead Proves Too Big For Vandal Rally

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Quarterback Bob Berry and the Oregon Ducks dazzled Idaho for one quarter, then held on grimly for a 14-8 football victory here today. Idaho was outplayed completely during most of the first half as Berry completed passes almost at will. But the Vandals were less impressive in the second half and Berry was less impressive.

The Ducks took a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, largely on the strength of Berry's passing. He completed six of seven passes for 53 yards, including Oregon's first touchdown, a four-yard loss to end Ray Palm.

It was into the first half before Idaho managed to move the ball across the midfield stripe, going to the four yard line, but they spent most of the second half in Oregon territory.

The Vandals didn't get on the scoreboard until only 1:44 remained to play. But minutes earlier Rick Vaccaro dropped a pass in the end zone when Idaho again was at the four.

Quarterback Mike Monahan, who had remarkable second half success with his keeper play, pitched out to Joe McCallum, Twin Falls, for a 10 yard touchdown run.

He tried to pass to Joe Chapman for the two-point conversion, but Toby baited the ball into the air — right into Chapman's hands.

The Vandals got possession again with 58 seconds remaining when Berry failed to gain the few inches needed for a first down at the Idaho 43.

Monahan passed to Vern Leyde at the Oregon 41 and it appeared Idaho still had a chance.

But with 30 seconds remaining, Oregon's Robb Haskins picked off a Monahan pass and the Ducks ran out the clock.

Berry finished the game with 17 completions and 229 yards in 27 attempts. He gained 100 yards on 14 for 20 completions during the first half.

Idaho, with only 15 yards rushing at halftime, finished with 101 yards on the ground.

Stolen Illini Pass Triggers Ohio State Win

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 10 (UPI)—John Fili's 48-yard run with an intercepted pass in the first four minutes of play set off an Ohio State scoring apirurgo and an upset 26-0 victory over second-ranked Illinois today. Fili's interception halted Illinois' strongest threat of the day, which had reached Ohio State's 25-yard line. And it set up a 24-yard touchdown run by quarterback Don Unverferth on a keeper.

Palmer Gains Finals of World Meet

VIRGINIA WATER, England, Oct. 10 (AP)—Arnold Palmer bludgeoned old Burma Road—Wentworth's demanding 6,000-yard west course—into abject submission today and marched over it into the final of the first world-match play golf tournament.

The 33-year-old U.S. Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., smashed down little Gary Player, South Africa, an old rival, 8 and 6 in their 36-hole semifinal match.

England's match play champion, Neil Cole, defeated Bruce Devlin of Australia 2 and 1 in the other semifinal and will meet Palmer Sunday in the 36-hole final for the $14,000 first prize money.

The runner-up will receive $8,400 of the jackpot, which is a tobacco company's. Saturday's losers get $5,000 each.

Palmer, playing his first match play tournament since he won the U.S. amateur championship 10 years ago, was simply unbeatable. He started slowly and was one down after nine holes. Then he fairly exploded and treated the tree-line par 74 course like a tom thumb layout.

After 18 holes Palmer was 4 up. He shot a morning round of 69, five under par, on a course soggy from overnight rains. Then starting the afternoon round, Arnie applied the crusher.

He shot the first six holes—2, 1, 2, 1, 2, 1—on a treacherous course, in 10 strokes, five under par. Before Player could get his breath, he was nine down.

The little South African rallied to win a couple of holes but at the 12th Palmer slammed the door. He rammed in a 40-foot putt for a birdie four then ended the match.

New Mexico Nips Arizona In 10-7 Upset

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 10 (AP)—The New Mexico Lobos unveiled a passing attack and bruising defense to pull off an upset victory over Arizona in a Western Athletic conference game tonight.

The triumph, New Mexico's third straight over Arizona and third in a row this season, knocked the Wildcats out of the conference lead.

The Lobos' defense held Arizona's quarterback Lou White in check most of the way, allowing him only one completion in the first three periods and two short completions in the waning moments of the game.

The Lobos defense also contributed to Jack Luteschman's game-winning 10-yard field goal, recovering an Arizona fumble on the Wildcat 27. New Mexico took seven plays to get to the two, from where Abendschneer booted the three-point with 3:10 in the fourth quarter.

New Mexico scored early, driving 80 yards in 14 plays. Fullback Bob Hammond dove one yard for the touchdown.

The 10-minute Garrett scored his touchdown from five and one yards and was removed with 10 minutes remaining in the game.

The Aggies scored quickly for the opening touchdown when Mike Zupan intercepted a pass by Craig Fertig and returned it 33 yards to the Trojan's seven. Four plays later, workhorse Jim Stabler scored from the one.

Southern Cal in the second quarter drove 64 yards in 11 plays with Pennington rolling out eight yards for a touchdown, and then Garrett led a charge of 33 yards to the Aggie five. The defense held and Dick Brownell kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Southern Cal swept 40 yards for another touchdown in the third and added two more in the fourth on marches of 40 and 44. A pass interference set up the last one on the A and M one, Ron Heller crashing over.

and again on another Imel pass to end Barry Roemer. He caught the ball on the Snow 16, twisted free of several tacklers and ran the ball into the end zone.

The last Boise touchdown came in the fourth quarter on Imel's six-yard pass to end John Granby.

UPENDED Illinois fullback, Don Hansen falls to stop Ohio State's Bob Funk (62) from kicking a fourth quarter field goal Saturday. The field goal lifted Ohio State's margin to 26-0 over the favored Illini. Defensive end Dave Mueller (86) preceded the diving Hansen. Ohio State player is Willard Sawyer (33) and No. 88 is Rich Callaghan. (AP wirephoto)

Penn State Goal Line Stand Kills Cadets' Last Hope

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 10 (AP)—Penn State marched 62 yards for its only touchdown today, then came up with a tremendous goal line stand in the dying minutes to upset Army 6-2, snapping a three-game losing streak. The fired-up Nittany Lions, after losing their first three games, stopped the Dutch.

Pedrow Leads Filer Over Hailey 45-6

HAILEY, Oct. 10 — Gordon Pedrow started Filer rolling in the first quarter when he ran for 78 yards on a punt return yesterday, as the Wildcats mauled the Hailey Wolverines 45-6.

Larry Hopworth followed with two fumbles in a row, one on a 50-yard end sweep and another on a 55-yard pass interception. Mike Touchette got the first two extra points but the third one failed.

Early Shields added six more in the second quarter from 10 yards and Steve Taylor made the conversion to leave the score 27-0 at the half.

The Wildcats made it 33-0 at the end of the third with scores by Shields and Touchette. John Kaufman recovered a fumble on the kickoff and Lloyd Gary ran the ball to the three-yard line to set up Shields' tally. Touchette punched over from 10 yards for his. Both conversions failed.

Early in the fourth Sharp made it over on a quarterback sneak from the 10 and made the extra point, for Filer's final tally.

Hailey's only score followed on a pass from Larry Burk to Hal Blumhagen for 35 yards, to the three. After three tries to punch the ball across, McQuiffy ran off tackle for the score. The extra point try failed.

Four plays later, Penn State punter Frank Henney allowed himself to be tackled in the end zone, giving the Cadets their only two points, a safety.

The strategy paid off. Hershey kicked off after the safety and guard John Rannels intercepted an army pass on the Penn State 24 as the final buzzer sounded.

Halfback Bob Riddle scored the Lions' touchdown in the third quarter, snatching over from the two eluding the 60-yard march. But Gerry Sanker's conversion attempt was wide to his left.

Quarterback Carl Stuchweh, Army's "Mr. Everything," brought the fans to their feet in the final quarter, controlling the ball for more than eight minutes as the Black Knights marched from their own 20 to the State.

On the next play, guard Bob Kane nailed fullback Mark Hamilton for a one-yard loss. Two Stuchweh passes fell incomplete in the end zone to give Penn State the ball.

Britain Cops Golf Amateur Team Crown

ROME, Oct. 10 (AP)—A quartet of British amateur golfers, who wouldn't let themselves be disturbed by a third straight day of driving rains and gusty winds outlasted players from 32 other nations today and won the fourth world amateur golf team championship.

The Britons thoroughly outclassed the defending American team, which wound up in fourth place, 12 strokes back, after one having been only one stroke behind Britain.

The victory gave Britain the huge Eisenhower trophy, which the United States had taken twice and Australia once in three previous world team competitions.

Second place went to a Canadian team which posted Saturday's best scores behind Britain and tied for second with the United States.

Britain scored a grand total of 805 for the 72 holes over the 6,870-yard par 72. Eight golf course Canada finished with 827, New Zealand took third with 890 and the United States fourth with 928.

Scores are counted for the three best from each team each day. The team's highest score is discarded.

Snell's Runs Sparks Jets Past Oakland

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The New York Jets combined Matt Snell's tank-like running with alert defense to tonight and trounced Oakland 25-13 in wind-chilled American Football league game.

With Snell reeling off 168 yards in 28 carries, both club records, and scoring two touchdowns, the Jets registered all their points in the first three quarters.

Oakland faltered twice in the fourth period as Cotton Davidson's desperation passes led them on 61 and 88-yard strikes. Holding penalties nullified two other runner touchdowns, and the Jets held for downs twice inside their 15-yard line.

It was the Jets' second victory against one defeat and a tie, and the fifth straight loss for the Raiders.

Tom Williams Leads Meet At Pocatello

POCATELLO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Oregon's Tom Williams took the lead in the Rocky Mountain Open at the Highland golf course today with a 68.

Williams' three-under par effort gave him a one-stroke lead over John Drips, host pro. Another stroke back was Gary Tawzer, Rupert, at 70.

John Kinsey, Twin Falls, leads the championship flight for amateurs with 71.

A 21-yard pass from Wilkinson to tight end John Dowler was the highlight of Wyoming's first touchdown, in the second quarter. Sophomore fullback Mike Davenport scored from the one.

Intercepted Pass Is Decisive in Lions' 21-14 Win

The opportunistic Borah defensive unit set up all the scoring, the back breaker on a 21-yard pass interception run Friday night and the Lions defeated the luckless Twin Falls Bruins 21-14 in a battle of undefeated teams. Two fumbles, one followed by a beautiful run-by-Borah's Steve Preece, set up the first two Borah scores as the Lions maintained a seven-year jinx over Twin Falls. The victory gave Borah sole possession of the Southern Idaho conference lead and the inside track toward the Lions' seventh straight championship.

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

Quotable quotes of the past few days:

At the University of Idaho the day prior to leaving for Twin Falls, coach Dee Andros was looking for a kickoff return man to replace the injured Ray Miller. He chose Tim Lavens to try, then went downfield to watch the result.

"Look at Tim, I'm on the goal line," he called back.

But assistant coach John Eastbrook also was standing there and said "Dee, you're on the five."

Andros didn't bat an eye.

"No wonder we can't score," he said.

While all golfers are seeking a hole-in-one, Jerry Schneider, Jr., Ogden, didn't let one at Blue Lake's Country club Monday before lunch.

"It was my 18th or 19th hole-in-one," I guess," Schneider said. "I guess it was 19 because I know I had 18 at one time."

Twin Falls football fans waiting to see John Astorga turn loose his storied, be-hat-for-wrapping, throwing arm, got the Twin Falls-Highland game. He wound up the night with 18 attempts, 11 completions, 239 yards and one touchdown.

Most of its followers a notable suggestion made by coach Paul Ostyn at half-time.

All Ostyn said was, "Why don't you try a few passes this half, John?"

The promotion of Joe McCollum to the University of Idaho's first-team reminds us of another quote made two years ago by his father, Joe McCollum, Sr.

The senior McCollum, who last year earned some fame by grabbing the tail of a wild mountain lion, said in a statement to coach Dee Andros after his son had accepted football aid from the Vandals.

McCollum was never sure that his son could make the Vandals' club, and he told Andros, "I hope Joe can't make your club because then I'll know you've got a heck of a ball team."

And there was no boast to the statement!

Coach Jim Wallace, Gooding, after seeing his charges win two of the three big games toward the end of the season, once again summed up his situation following a victory over Kimberly last week-end.

"I think the boys are starting to come along now."

Murtaugh mentor DeVon Anderson watched his Devils penalized repeatedly for illegal hits and fumbles. He said that the Devils made legal contact but then pushing force away with extended arms.

Finally in the closing minutes, after watching a 15-yard punt off his club at the Castelford five yards line, coach Anderson called out: "Well, that's the (school) record. Now can you keep your arms at your side?"

Duck Success Low, Hunters Over-Anxious

Over-anxious hunters were the highlight of the opening day of duck season Saturday, in the Magic Valley area, as they fanned away at geese on Mormon reservoir before they came within range. Hunter success in the Valley was almost zero, except in the area around Union Reservoir and the north side main canal where the ducks averaged three per man.

The supply of geese on Mormon reservoir was estimated to be around 500 by conservation officers Charles Blake, Jerome, and Walt Brown, Camas prairie. According to Blake, most of the hunters fired before the large waterfowl came in range which kept many flying around the reservoir some distance from the land. Out of 35 hunters checked there were only 15 geese and three ducks taken. Blake also noted that the ducks were in abundance there but the hunters' interest was centered on the larger game.

According to Jim Uranga, conservation officer in the Twin Falls area, hunter participation on the canals and along the Snake river in the Twin Falls project was very slow. Uranga also noted that there were very few ducks to be found.

The Hagerman Valley area was much the same as Twin Falls according to conservation officer Frank Smith. Smith checked about 15 hunters and negligible amount of ducks were counted.

Except for the two fumbles, Twin Falls controlled play in the first half and Borah was fortunate to leave the field at half-time with a 14-14 deadlock. But in the last two periods Borah dominated play, once driving to the Twin Falls five-yard line before being stopped and on the last play of the game scoring a penalty nullify a field goal.

The game wasn't six minutes old when Twin Falls forged in front. Dave Church recovered a Borah fumble at the Bruin 38-yard line and two plays later Scott Strong burst up the middle, veered to the left side and streaked 58 yards for the touchdown.

An exchange of punts ended the first quarter but on the first play of the second period a hike from center bounced off Larry Spiers shoulder pads and Tom Deering recovered for Borah on the 23-yard line. Four plays later Wayne Darling plunged in from the line.

Three minutes later Borah was in front as John Astorga was swarmed under and fumbled. Question Howard taking possession from Borah at the 20-yard line. Two passes fell incomplete and Dave Rolfe was stopped after one yard. Then on fourth and nine Preece failed to pass and was pressured by two Bruins. He finally eluded the pair and broke free to the sideline. There he picked up a block and sailed to the seven-yard line where Twin Falls' George Smith was waiting. The two collided, Smith being knocked down, and Preece went in standing up.

After a punt Twin Falls had an opportunity to capitalize on a break when George McAdams recovered a fumble at Borah's 24-yard line. But the Bruins' Tom Lynch fumbled the ball back and Borah kicked out of trouble.

With time running out Strong hit George Smith on a 37-yard pass play and on the next down Astorga flipped a sailing pass to Tom Lynch who sped the final 17 yards untouched.

Borah dominated the third quarter with a grinding march that carried to a first and 10 at the Bruin 15-yard line before the Bruins stiffened and took over at the six. But the drive paid off in two plays later, faced with a third and six situation, Astorga tried a pass. A big Bruin's Tom Grabner grabbed one arm and Astorga, not wanting to be downed at the three, elected to gamble on an off-balance pass. Dave Rolfe slipped in front of Larry Satterwhite to make the steal and he romped into the end zone standing up.

From that point on Twin Falls never managed a first down and Borah eventually drove to the five-yard line before the penalty killed the field goal on the final play.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 10 — Georgia Tech, riding a four-game winning streak, could play on an even basis with any football team in the country, as Navy Coach Warren Hardin looked at it through the gloom of his Middle Tennessee 17-0 loss to Tech in the Gator bowl last night.

Without All America Roger Staubach, who didn't even make the trip from Annopolis because of an ankle injury, Navy was puncheon against Georgia Tech's pursuit defense.

Burley finally made a drive stick early in the second quarter when quarterback Russ Mallory went 16-yards on a quarterback keep. Just before halftime little Robin Church climaxed another play by sweeping end for seven yards.

John Schorman got the last Burley touchdown in the third quarter when he powered his way up the middle for 25 yards.

YANKS NIP CARDS 2-1 IN NINTH INNING

Mantle Rips Reliever's First Pitch for Homer, N. Y. Grabs Series Edge

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Mickey Mantle rewarded bulldog Jim Bouton's six-pitching with a dramatic ninth-inning homerun today to give the New York Yankees a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and a two-games-to-one lead in the world series. The skyrocketing drive, on the first pitch thrown by relief pitcher Barney Schultz, bounced off the third deck of the right field stands at Yankee stadium and gave Mantle a new all-time record of 16 homers in world series competition.

Happy Bouton Gives Credit to Mantle

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Jim Bouton threw his arm around Mickey Mantle in the New York Yankees dressing room and yelled, "Oh, he belted that ball!" ## Indians Score in Final Four Minutes to Edge Minico 13-7

BUILD, Oct. 10—The Build Indians stopped the Minico Spartans from getting the go-ahead touchdown with four minutes remaining in the fourth quarter last night and then moved down the length of the field in three plays for a 13-7 victory. The fumble-ridden, defensively-played game was marred when the Spartan center, Roger Haxsting, was injured and had to be taken to a doctor by ambulance. The turning point for the Indians came after they had successfully held the Spartans one-foot out and, after a fumble, kept them from getting inside the five.

Fred Braliford recovered a fumble after the Spartans had driven to the one-foot mark and after Charlie Griffin made one yard. Randy Baxter went up the middle on a hand-off from Griffin but was hit hard and lost the ball on the 13.

After the recovery the Spartans made it too the five on Tom Pindexter's three-yard sprint and Jim Whistler's five-yard pass.

The ball went back to Build after two unsuccessful tries up the middle but the Indians could only get nine yards and were forced to punt themselves out of trouble.

Purdue grabbed three Wisconsin passes in the last quarter as the Badgers realized they had no chance on the ground against the massive Boilermaker defense platoon.

U. S. Swimmer Sets First Mark In 1964 Olympics

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (Sunday) (UPI)—Powerful Gary Ilman, a 21-year-old student from San Jose, Calif., became the first record breaker of the Tokyo Olympic games and Patsy Willard, Mesa, Ariz., surprised by building up a commanding lead in the women's springboard diving today. Ilman, a 6-foot, 2-inch, 195-pounder, finished in a 51-second time.

But clocking in the first heat of the men's 100-meter freestyle and led a general American advance into the semifinals.

Minutes later Mike Austin, a Yale student from Rochester, N. Y., captured the second heat, and Don Scholander, Lake Oswego, Ore., the third American in the event, won his heat.

"That's just what I wanted," Austin said. "Of course Ilman's time was faster, but the most important thing is getting all three Americans in the semifinals."

"They made it, and with ease, and led the expected American domination of the swimming competition, held before a packed house of 15,000 in the new swimming stadium.

But while the swimmers' success was expected, the commanding lead built by Miss Willard came as a distinct surprise.

"I got off in a very good start," she said, "and after the first dive, I was no closer to Ingrid Kraemer-Eggel and Tamara Fedoseeva than I figured I could move up on the second dive because back diving is my specialty."

"Of course, it is too early to tell, but the fact that we have three Americans in the first six means that we should be good for two medals."

Only one American woman qualified for the finals in the 200-meter breaststroke. The qualifier, Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., swam her heat in 2:40.7. Tammy Hazelton of Silver Spring, Md., missed out with a time of 2:55.

Three Americans won their first round matches in the freestyle wrestling tournament.

Featherweight Bobby Douglas, Bridgeport, Ohio, won on points from Ilyurilun Sahinkaya, Turkey. Dave Auble, Illinois, N. Y., beat Bakhtanar, Mongolia, on points in the bantamweight class. Gray Simons, Norfolk, Va., won his flyweight match on points from Gleycho Malov Georgiev, Bulgaria.

Parker Leads Tigers Past Dietrich 25-6

RICHFIELD, Oct. 10 — Roy Parker started past ended Richfield's scoring yesterday as the defense held Dietrich to one touchdown and the Tigers went on to a 25-6 victory.

Parker started it off with his 45-yard trot in the first quarter, but the Blue Devils came back with a 40-yard pass from Jim Clage to Ron Knowles for Dietrich's lone score and left the halftime score at 6-6.

Jan Jensen put Richfield ahead in the third quarter when he ran the kickoff back 60 yards. Parker then hit Jack Riley on a 20-yard pass and Riley ran the remaining 30 to put the Tigers on in front 18-6.

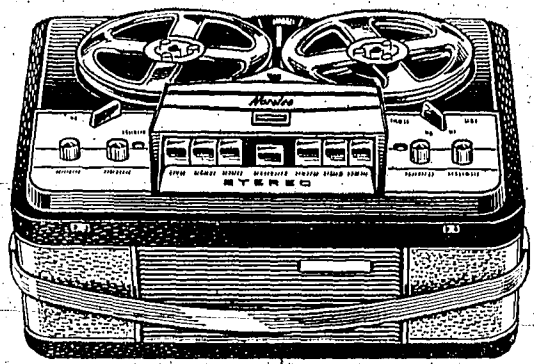

Jensen made the final touchdown early in the fourth on a 50-yard trot in the middle. Parker ran around left end to finish the scoring at 25-6.

Vic Robertson and Tony Ward were the main defensive force that held Dietrich away from the goal.

Kansas Wallops Iowa State 42-6

AMES, Ia., Oct. 10 (UPI)—Coach Jack Mitchell, honored in effigy by Kansas students last week received an overwhelming vote of confidence from his team today in a 42-6 trouncing of Iowa State.

Fullback Ron Oelschlaeger, playing his first game of the year after being injured in pre-season practice, ran 73 yards for a touchdown in the first time he carried the ball and started Kansas to a 20-0 first quarter lead.

BOUVENIRS FROM GERMANY, including a beer mug displayed in this picture, are now proud possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Benno Deters and small daughter, Julie Ann, who recently returned from a visit to Deters' native land. It was his wife's first trip abroad and his first trip back since he became an American citizen. In this picture the daughter is dressed in an authentic dress of the West German area. ## Industry in West Germany Hits Fast Pace Since End of Conflict Practically all scars of World War II in Germany—at least in West Germany—have disappeared and the only people who are painfully employed are those who do not want to work.

Benno Deters, a Twin Falls welder, was 14 when the bombs came and practically blew the industrial city of Bremen from the map. His home was just across the Weser river at the town of Hardsenleith. He saw it seven and one-half years ago came to the United States—the country which had sent one bomber over his native land in order to win a war. Last July and August he went back, for he was an American citizen and his wife and 2-year-old daughter, Julie, were with him.

He went back home, back to the scenes and surroundings of his youth for a visit. He was glad he made the trip, but, the other night in an interview with the Times-News, he said that he was just as glad to get back to his new home, the United States of America.

The journey which led him from Germany to Twin Falls and a business in Twin Falls was a long one. The one-back-home, thanks to modern transportation, required only 10 brief hours of flying time by swift 707 Lufthansa airline jet plane from Salt Lake City to Montreal, to Zurich, Switzerland, and to Frankfurt, Germany.

His wife found the trip thrilling for several reasons. She had never been to Germany before. It was her first trip on a jet, a bus, a taxi or a streetcar and she also enjoyed her first river boat ride when she accompanied her husband and daughter on one of the famed Rhine river sightseeing trips.

But even with the speed and different modes of travel, it was still the beauty of modern day Germany plus elimination of any of the scars of war and the booming economy which impressed them most.

Deters remembered how Bremen looked when the Allies were through with it. It was a military target because it was a shipbuilding town which stretched for 25 or 30 miles along the river. So great was the industrial concentration for war that a submarine was completed and ready for war every 14 days and a raiding boat, like the PT boats of the Allies, was ready to go every 10 days.

His father was a shipbuilder then. Now he has retired, but other members of the family are carrying on the tradition.

Areas in which Deters played as a youngster are now sites for great factories. Ocean-going ships ply up and down the river where he used to swim.

Many of his friends are still around, as are members of his immediate family. Some of the

District Highway Event Offers Citizens Chance to See Facility

BOZEMAN, Oct. 10 — Open house facilities at the Idaho state department of highways district headquarters this week afforded Magic Valley residents an opportunity to see what goes on in the department.

All pieces of highway operation were thrown open for public questions. There is one question that the department can't answer easily—and that is, the job of building a modern highway is more complex and complicated than it was 10 years ago.

According to Dale Tankersley, presenting the district, the recent boom in building interstate roads definitely has put the department under closer public scrutiny.

Years ago the department was building roads along established procedures, such as following section lines where there was dedicated right of way. Political lines often determined where the new highways were located. All that has changed.

Now extensive research goes into highway planning. The department utilizes modern techniques in highway design and planning.

Tankersley pointed out that, despite the increased emphasis on roads and the highway department, the district operates with 180 employees. The number of employees hasn't changed substantially over the years. And for that matter the number of pieces of equipment is substantially the same. Equipment is just more complex and the caliber of employees is higher.

At present the department has the highest number of licensed professional engineers on its staff.

over. The department actively recruits engineers at Idaho universities and adjoining state institutions.

In the field of location and mapping, new techniques are employed, such as aerial photography. Stereo photo overlays are used to assist location engineers in picking routes which will do the least damage to farmland and high value property and still can be constructed at a minimum cost.

Quantity figures, such as the amount of earth fill and excavations, are computed in IBM machines rather than on a hand calculator.

The state has always had rigid specifications on road construction, but Tankersley noted this in the use of concrete alone the total now is fantastic.

Testing has been stepped up in recent years. Source pits are tested. This can be either gravel or compacted earth. Concrete when erected is tested or has to come up to specification. It's just that more steel, more rock, more gravel and more concrete is being used to build highways.

The state operates on the theory that its greatest investment is in the constructed road. Road maintenance is a very important phase of highway system. Road maintenance would be a simple thing if this end of the state had uniform weather. The extremes in our state with the roads and spring breakup is a problem the department lives with.

The district maintains 1,052 miles of state and federal roads and is responsible for keeping the highest pass in Idaho open during the winter—Galena summit.

The district is bound by the Nevada-Utah state line on the

Local "Sky Diver" Is Anxious to Form Organization in Twin Falls

BY G. H. CHAMBERS

Sky diving is fast becoming a popular sport in many sections of the United States and the sport is starting to pick up a few enthusiasts in Magic Valley. One of the leading advocates of the sport in this area is Jim Chevalier, 151 Park street.

Most of Chevalier's time is spent in the back shop of the Times-News where he is a printer in the composing room.

However, when the wind is right and he can get a ride, he prefers a leap into space, about 5,000 feet above the Earth's surface.

Why? There is no pat answer for that question. First of all, it is a challenge. Like other sports there is an element of chance, risk or hazard. But Chevalier's main reason for leaping into space is that the sport teaches other things, like coordination, mental alertness and paying attention to minute detail.

There can be no slumps in the sport of sky diving.

The fine line in error is a great teaching factor. A sloppy sky diver is a dead sky diver.

To sky dive isn't just putting on a parachute and jumping out of an airplane. Many rules and regulations must be followed before the diver is allowed to jump.

A good drop zone must be picked. And this has to be located in prescribed areas. According to Chevalier, the zone must be out of normal flight patterns and clear of obstructions. A check with the federal aviation agency generally will put the diver onto the trail of where and when he can jump. FFA regulations must be rigidly followed.

There is a minimum height that a diver can perform. If it isn't covered in FFA regulations it is covered in the rules of the Parachute Club of America, which is the official organized group that supervises sky diving.

At present Chevalier is trying to get a Magic Valley sky diving club organized and become associated with the national group. Novice jumpers have to go through a rigid pre-jump training program. However, it is likely that most of the potential club members will be ex-paratroopers or ex-forest service smokejumpers.

Some of the safety precautions a sky diver has to follow include regular inspection of reserve parachutes. Reserve parachutes have to go to Salt Lake City for inspection and repacking. There is a firm in Salt Lake City qualified and licensed to do this.

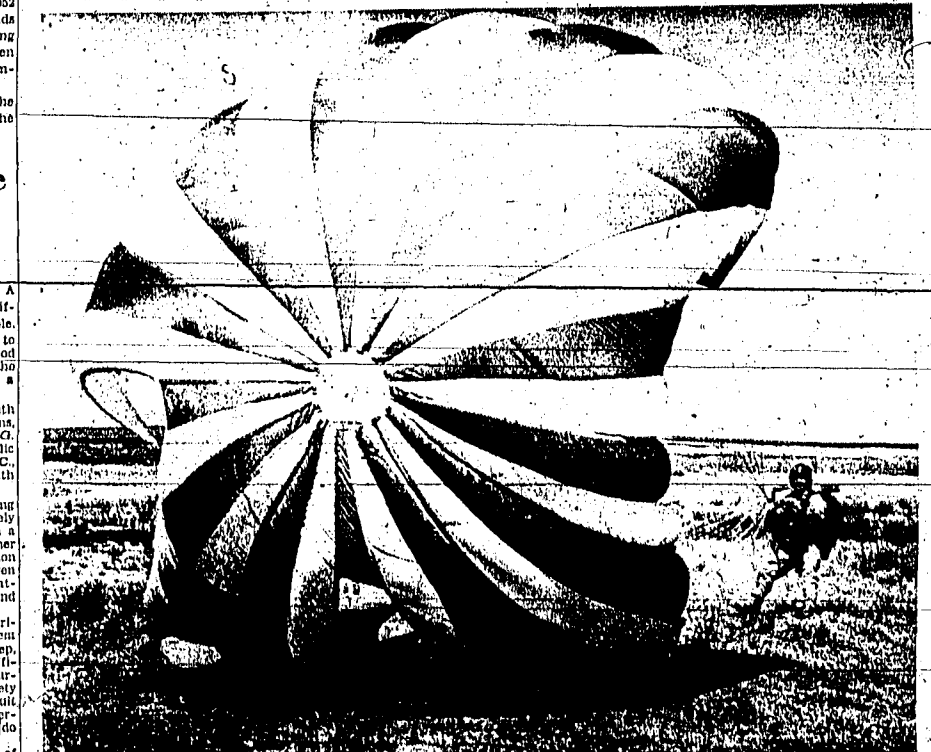

Sky diving varies from place to place. Weather and elevation are an important factor in diving. The air is denser at sea level and a little thin in Idaho. Consequently, one moves faster in thin air, even in a parachute.

According to Chevalier, the best time to sky dive is the early morning hours. The air hasn't warmed and isn't moving about.

The whole theory behind sky diving is to leap from a plane,

SETTLING DOWN to earth is Jim Chevalier after falling through space while sky diving south of Twin Falls. Object of skydiving is to drop as close as the can to a predetermined target. (Times-News photo)

FULL CANOPY OF SILK blossoms out after hitting the target by a few feet after a jump from 5,000 feet above the ground near McMaster's flat. Sky diver Jim Chevalier missed the drop zone. Local pilots hunt the jumper. (Times-News photo)

No Real Cure Exists to Aid Smokers

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP) — A cigarette means a lot of different things to different people. And that's why it is foolish to think there is any one method that will help all people who would like to quit smoking, a social scientist said today.

Smoking gets tied up with different habits, associations, and psychological needs, Dr. G. M. Hochbaum of the U. S. public health service, Washington, D.C., told the American Public Health Association.

"When we speak of smoking cessation, we do not speak merely of a single, isolated change in a person's life, but of a rather radical and extensive disruption of a complicated, interwoven pattern of habits, of needs gratified, or pleasures derived, and of tensions released," he said.

"Smokers have claimed variously that cigarettes help them to relax, to concentrate, to sleep, to stay awake, to get over difficult situations, to feel self-assured or to accomplish a variety of other things. It is difficult for many non-smokers to understand that cigarettes could do all this."

Among any large group of smokers, "the approaches, methods and techniques to facilitate

FIVE GENERATIONS of the family of a former Hagerman resident are shown. Mrs. Morris Stokes, the former Beris Corlett, Hill City, is standing next to H. B. (Herb) Gilmore, who will soon be 88. He lived in Hagerman from 1905 to 1954 when he moved to Nampa. Gilmore helped clear the land for the Twin Falls townsite in 1906. Other members are, from left, Marvin Stokes, holding his daughter, Jana Marie Stokes. They are from Kuna. Mrs. Reveria Condit, Hagerman, seated, is Gilmore's daughter.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

There should be some red faces on some of the too eager hunters on the North Boulder mountain hunt which opened last Saturday. A bit of humor was enacted by a FAIRFIELD high school student this last week. The son of a local civic leader dried the head and hide of a buck deer last year. A few days before the season opened, he mounted the head and hide on a plywood board to simulate a deer. He placed it on a hill near Five Points on Little Snake creek. The day the hunt opened, he retrieved the remains of the hide and board and counted more than 60 bullet holes in the board. He had been checking on it and said that many were put in it before the season opened.

A few years ago another surprising high school student mounted a doe's head on a board and placed it in a field near the family farm west of Hill City. The board was riddled with bullet holes during the hunting season. The student watched the board from a shed and recognized many victims of his hoax.

An Easter lily is blooming in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lierman, southwest of PIER. The plant had a number of blooms last Easter when it was presented to Mrs. Lierman as a gift, and when warm weather arrived Mrs. Lierman planted it outside in the garden.

The main stem of the plant died down, she states, but the plant sent up a shoot from the side and it is this shoot which has a single bloom on it. The lily has grown to a height of about two and a half feet, which was about the height it attained last spring.

The Liermans are wondering what to do with the lily this winter and do not know whether to leave it outside or dig it up and bring it into the house. They said when they planted it outside last spring they never really believed it would ever grow or bloom again.

The fourth birthday anniversary of Shirley Gaskill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaskill, SHOSHONE, was a happy one for sure. But whether or not the child was as happy as the parents remain a question.

Just a few days before the birthday Sept. 10, Shirley underwent heart surgery at the LDS hospital in Salt Lake City. She was operated on Friday and the next Thursday was released from the hospital.

It was during the time she was waiting to go back to the hospital for her final checkup before coming home that she enjoyed the birthday. The operation was termed a success and was cause for the parents extra joy on this special day.

The fact that little Shirley had any trouble with her heart was discovered by accident this fall. Her parents only knew of the trouble for about a month before the surgery.

For another infection she was taken to a TWIN FALLS hospital and while being treated there, the doctor discovered the heart condition. The trip to Salt to Nampa. Gilmore helped clear the land for the Twin Falls townsite in 1906. Other members are, from left, Marvin Stokes, holding his daughter, Jana Marie Stokes. They are from Kuna. Mrs. Reveria Condit, Hagerman, seated, is Gilmore's daughter.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

"As the Campaign Warms"

REV. ROBERT C. MARYNY
First Presbyterian Church,
"Irresponsible . . . fanatical . . .
power mad . . . incompetent . . ."
These words and others that are worse are heard a great deal these days as the election draws nearer. Foreign observers are occasional as a rule to comment that Americans seem to go barbaric at election time. But, as we all know, it really is not as bad as it sounds. After the election is over many, if not most, of the quarrels are patched up and life goes back to normal.

However, there are enough permanent rifts and enough feeling behind home of the inactive to make many people dubious of the art of politics. Christians who hesitate to carry their political arena should pay more attention to some of the activity of Jesus. He was very much aware of what was going on in the world about him. In a very interesting story found in the first 14 verses of Luke 10, he actually praises the foresightedness of a dishonest man. Note that he does not praise the man nor his dishonesty, but his shrewdness. This suggests that Christians might well consider their Christian commitment and their integrity with the as-tuteness of the practical politician. One's Christian conviction ought to be strong enough that it will be this aspect of man's character that will be dominant.

Whether in politics, in the church or wherever one is, one of the most healing influences in human relationships is forgiveness. Whenever we are involved with other people in any activity there is friction, there are misunderstandings, there are words and deeds that would have been better left unsaid or undone. Forgiveness is simply the ability to accept and love another person, after he has done wrong toward us. The most joyous note in Jesus' message was the forgiveness of God. If forgiveness can be given without being earned there is hope for our relationships. Without it there is little or none. Armed with integrity and forgiveness a Christian may enter politics or

Kiwanis Club Nominates New Officers

Nominating committee report suggesting men to serve during the 1965 term was released during the regular Kiwanis club meeting in Twin Falls Thursday noon.

Decision of the committee was announced by Joe McCollum, chairman. Nominations from the floor will be accepted next Thursday and this will be followed by the election at a later date.

Dr. Jack McNeas was given the nod as committee choice for president, with Arno Anderson as first vice president. Two men were suggested for second vice president. They are Kenneth Mc-
Neas and William Koch. Claude
Brown was recommended for the post of treasurer.

Eight men were named to compete for five posts open on the board of directors. They are Stanley Snow, Eldon Evans, Norman Taylor, Elmer Hays, Les Vogel, Jack Shaw, Jerry Klomp and Joseph Ryan.

National Survey of Fishing-Hunting Shows Billions of Dollars Are Spent

BY JIM HUMPHREY

Idaho fish-game department today, Oct. 10. Millions of Americans every year spend billions of dollars, hundreds of millions of dollars and travel more billions of miles to enjoy sport fishing and hunting. These growing outdoor sports are enjoyed by every member of the family—female as well as male; the very young and elderly as well as those in the prime of life. Nearly two out of every five Americans over the age of 12 are fishermen, hunters, or both. About one-sixth of these outdoor sportsmen are hunters who fish during the "off" season.

These figures are taken from the second National Survey of Fishing and Hunting in the United States, covering the calendar year 1960. The first survey was for 1950. A comparison of the two publications shows that the elapse of only five years between volumes produced significant upward trends in these traditional American activities and the enormous influence they have on the nation's economy.

For example, the number of outdoor sportsmen had increased by over five million, and their expenditures in pursuit of hunting and fishing had gained by one billion dollars in the five year span.

Finding similar facts and figures for Idaho is harder to do. It now is generally recognized that fishing, hunting and tourism, collectively, represent the state's No. 2 industry, second only to agriculture in the general economy. License sales over the years indicate that about half of the state's residents over 12 years of age either fish or hunt, or both. It has been 10 years, now, since Willis Calhoun Royall, Jr., published a thesis as partial fulfillment of the requirements for a master of science degree at Cornell University. He called this work, "Wildlife Values: With Special Reference to Idaho Wildlife as a Recreational Resource."

Both residents and nonresidents, now using the resources, and the amount of money spent in the Gem state in pursuit of fish and game, has grown enormously in a decade. Thus it is not easy to project Royall's figures to the present with much realism because many of them try to measure intangibles.

For example, figures showing the sale of all Idaho license classes in 1964 total $93,004. This compares with $50,228 for 1953, an increase of 64,324 sales in the total amount of license sales for all classes.

Royall's 1953 figures—breakdown which lists 15 standard expense items for hunters and fishermen, both residents and nonresidents, and shows where the money went for big game, upland birds, waterfowl, fish and others.

Royall's 1953 figures breakdown as follows: Resident game hunting, $8,001,000; upland game hunting, $3,702,000; waterfowl, $2,078,000; fish, $14,138,000; and other general purchases, for both hunting and fishing, $5,732,000. These expenditures total $24,671,000, with the lion's share being spent by resident fishermen.

These expenses were paid by resident license holders and include the following items: Transportation, food and lodging, shotguns, rifles, telescopes, ammunition, fishing tackle, clothing, dogs, dog food, horses, packers, decoys, special fees, boats, motors, tents, sleeping equipment, gloves, lanterns, cameras, camera supplies, and miscellaneous.

It is obvious that all nonresident per capita outlays by type of sport are much higher than the corresponding resident per capita. But the figures show transportation in Idaho is 23 per cent of a nonresident's total expense, and 24 per cent of a resident's.

Resident fishermen spend 32 per cent of their budgets for travel. A nonresident's travel in Idaho is fairly close to that of a resident. The difference seems to be that he makes fewer but longer trips.

Food and lodging amounts to 38 per cent of all nonresident costs, as compared to only 14 per cent for the resident. Both groups of sportsmen, however, have low food and lodging expenses because they camp out or guests of relatives and friends. The total nonresident expenditure for food and lodging was over $3,000—more than half the $5,000 spent by residents for this purpose.

Horses and packers absorb one-third of the nonresident's big game hunting outlay, according to Royall's 1953 figures.

Resident hunters spend only nine per cent of their money on this item. This does not mean nonresidents are more important to packers and guides. Residents shelled out $234,000 compared to $221,000 spent by nonresidents.

misleading. What the figures mean is that a greater percentage of nonresidents employ the services of experienced packers and guides. On the other hand, rifles, telescopes and ammunition rate only five per cent for out-of-staters, but 35 per cent of the resident big game hunter's budget.

Although all hunters spend "only" about 10 million dollars in Idaho each year, compared to 41 million dollars by fishermen, this is the time of year when most anglers put away rods and reels in favor of rifles and shotguns. The average hunter seldom lets his wife know how much he spends on a hunting trip, but some figures are available.

Royall found out that nonresident license holders spent a total of $859,000 for big game hunting during the 1953 Idaho seasons. In addition, nonresidents spent $122,000 for upland game; and $50,000 for their waterfowl hunting.

Half of the items listed by Royall as "other general expenses" includes fishing as well as hunting. Half of this amount is $355,000 for nonresidents. It should be remembered that in 1953, when these figures were compiled, only 3,300 nonresidents bought Idaho hunting licenses. Last year, the number was about 6,000.

A good percentage of the 10 million dollars spent by resident and nonresident hunters in the Gem state a decade ago, a figure which undoubtedly escalates with each passing year, made purchases in remote areas where dollars are badly needed.

Many tourist areas, indeed, would dry up in the fall and winter if it were not for the hunters who seek out places of small population.

Many of these millions put out by Idaho hunters go for food, lodging, gasoline, and other forms of transportation, includ-

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

Professional Man, Church Worker Has Found Singing Pleasure of Life

James C. Reynolds has been singing his way through life. Singing, it seems, is just second nature to the local business and professional man because he was always in demand, even in grade school.

Reynolds laughs when he recalls what he termed the reason. "It really wasn't that I had a good voice," he comments, "it was because I had a bass voice and they needed me in the quartets and the choir."

His friends will disagree with him, pointing out that since he moved to Twin Falls 14 years ago he has been an active member of the choir of the First Christian church and has been featured numerous times in quartets and in solo work.

Reynolds was born at Camport, Ill., the son of a minister of the Christian church. Through the influence of his mother and father, he recalls, "I just entered church work and choir work as a matter of course. It just seemed the natural thing to do and I did it. It has stayed with me all these years."

He had just started his formal schooling in the Illinois community when the family moved to Boise, where his father became minister of the Christian church there.

He got through the fifth grade in Boise when the family moved again, this time to Pullman, Wash. He finished grade school there and then the family moved to Burley where he completed his first two years in high school before a further move came around, this time to Lewiston for his junior year and then to Pasco, Wash., where he completed his senior year and graduated.

One thing about being the son of a minister is that you get to see plenty of country, because they always seem to be on the move," Reynolds comments. After high school graduation he attended Spokane university for two years, taking a pre-medical course. Then came another move and he went with his folks to Miles City, Mont.

It was in Montana that he became interested in the mortuary profession and decided to make ing light aircraft, horses and mules. It is not generally realized that sportsmen spend much more on wearing apparel than for sporting firearms and ammunition. They buy everything from bright red shirts to surplus jackets. Despite the variety of mechanical and animal modes of transportation available, the American hunter last year still wore out more than four million people while trailing game and stomping brush, piles for rabbits.

Yes, the amount spent by Idaho hunters each year has grown steadily since World War I and all indications are that they will continue to add more to the state's economy in the years ahead.

JAMES C. REYNOLDS

it his life's work. He became associated with a concern in Miles City and then, when his father made another move—this time to Kimberly—he settled in Twin Falls, where he has resided since.

He was associated with a local mortuary for the next eight years and in 1938 he purchased an interest in the Drake mortuary, one of the "pioneer" institutions of the community. In 1940 he became sole owner of the firm, located at 123 Second Avenue west. It was in 1950 that the firm—now known as the Reynolds Funeral home—moved into the apartment building just east of the city on Addison Avenue east.

Construction of the new funeral home was one of the largest projects in this area during that year, records show. During his high school and college days, Reynolds was active in football and dramatics, in addition to the singing activities. During his residence in Twin Falls he has been extremely active in church and community circles. He is a deacon and member of the board of the First Christian church and is a member of the Kiwanis club. He has served as song director for Kiwanis for years and is a former member of the board.

He is also a member of the club's exclusive Legion of Merit, a group of men who have been Kiwanis members for at least 25 years. For the past 26 years he has had a perfect attendance record.

He is a member of the local Elks lodge, a past president of the Idaho State Funeral Directors association, a past president of the Magic Valley district of the same organization and a member of the National Funeral Directors association. He has served for years on

No Real Cure Exists to Aid Smokers

(Continued from Page 1) discontinuation will have to be for-in some ways," he said. Dr. Hochbaum said it is not necessarily true that "all people who go to smoking clinics need want to stop smoking."

Many a smoker may just want to shift the responsibility for the clinic's staff, he said, leaving a door open to "reluctance away his failure to quit."

The smoker must understand that "each cigarette is a medical link in a chain of cigarettes that each cigarette adds to the decision to quit."

Dr. Hochbaum called for psychiatric research to learn about psychosocial aspects of smoking, and to develop more effective ways "to help the number of smokers who, despite the fact that they want to, are unable to stop."

the board of the Red Cross organization and on the board of the Snake River Area Council of Boy Scouts of America. He is a former member of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

During World War II he was first sergeant in the Idaho National Guard. In Oct. 9, 1934, he married Rosemary James, a registered nurse at the local hospital. He took her nurses training at the Lady of the Lourdes hospital in Hot Springs, S. D.

Reynolds has two sons, the oldest, Paul, just completed a course at the San Francisco College of Mortuary Science and will soon become associated with the Reynolds Funeral home. Paul also married a nurse, and the birth to the couple's daughter, Robyn Marie, in August, changed his father from "a father to a grandfather."

The other son, David Lewis, a senior at Twin Falls high school.

Reynolds says his idea concerning community service is shared by other members of his family.

"We all believe that if we live in a community you should give back more than you take away," he said.

Gymnasium Annex Delay Is Reported

It is doubtful the gymnasium annex to the west side of the Twin Falls high school will be completed by Nov. 15, the date specified in the contract, due to difficulties in getting equipment and building fixtures, according to Ernest Hagland, superintendent of school district No. 41.

The district maintains everything from complex asphalt plants to simple hand lawnmowers and these are maintained and repaired at the district shop here. During the late summer the shop crew is busy working on snow equipment, getting it ready for the coming season. During the winter months they are busy maintaining and repairing mowing machines and trucks for summer use.

In addition there is a complete vehicle service center. Here the big trucks and light vehicles are serviced and kept in good repair.

Considering its mission, the district gets pretty good mileage out of 180 employees. When one totals up the number of engineers, inspectors, maintenance men and administrative tasks involved over the thousand-mile-plus setup, it appears that the state and the taxpayer is getting a full measure of value.

Progress forces changes and a prime example of change is in traffic control. The state is involved in many legal commitments with the various towns in Magic Valley.

In the 180-employee total there is included the traffic section. Faster roads means bigger signs. Highway signs which could be read at 50 miles per hour are a blur at 70 miles per hour. A bigger sign is more expensive. This "big standard" information sign used to cost about $8. Now the larger sign costs closer to $24. The increased cost makes vandalism even more costly. One dollar, larger sign is more costly to replace than two old signs.

Included in the addition on the first floor are rooms for wrestling and first aid, along with enlarged shower room and dressing room. On the second floor there will be storage space for athletic equipment and a classroom for physical education and team sports.

Sub-contractors are Home plumbing and Carrel Electric.
